

URBAN POOR—WORKFORCE AND CITIZENS

(A. Jesus 2000)

"As he (Jesus) drew near, he saw the city and wept over it, saying, 'If you (city) you only knew what implies for peace—but now it is hidden from your eyes' (Lk. 19:42)

Urban poor people are blamed for the floods caused by Ondoy. Government officials demand the people be prohibited from moving back to their homes along the rivers and esteros. The president has said that in the makeover of Metro-Manila we must "rid the city" of informal settlers as if they were vermin.

There is no scientific basis proposed for such violent actions. Loggers in the Sierra Madre and developers may be more guilty. We may evict 80,000 families from the waterways at great expense and suffering only to find in 20 years the floods are back and stronger than ever. There must be a rock solid scientific reason to disrupt the lives of 400,000 persons.

Riverbank and lake-side dwellers will not insist on returning to or staying in their homes if they are offered decent in-city relocation near their jobs and the children's schools.

The poor were affected that fateful Saturday just as the middle-class people. Unlike the middle-class, however, the poor had no place to go except back to their homes by the waterways.

Distant relocation is not the answer as there are usually no jobs available in the far away sites. Jobs are basic: without regular income the people will be hungry and non-return. Besides, the economy of Metro Manila depends on the labor of its poor citizens for constructing infrastructure and housing and operating vital public services.

Let us take advantage of the proposed Metro Manila make-over announced by the President to reform our cities once and for all. Let us move into 21st century thinking by making Metro Manila and our other cities inclusive ones that integrate the urban poor into their midst rather than force them into slums or degraded sites. These dwellers their humanity and serve as constant reminders of social injustices perpetuated by the only Christian country in Asia."

We call for a serious examination of the causes of the floods. What, if any, was the role of the poor? Who is really to blame? Can the examination not be done by the Senate?

We call for both public and the private land near the waterways to be identified and set aside for riverbank and lake-side settlement, designated by government for temporary social housing use until it can identify and prepare permanent social housing sites for them in the city. We believe, however, on-site upgrading is the best solution, unless the site is intrinsically dangerous.

We also call for a serious re-examination of our current unjust and inefficient land use systems and a serious look at the implications of urbanization for all Filipinos, especially the poorer citizens.

It is time to explore humane and effective approaches that will enable our urban poor workforce to remain in the City, enjoy their rights as Filipino citizens, and help realize a vibrant, competitive, humane and inclusive Asian city.

the use of the word "baptism" in the New Testament is not a matter of mere semantics. It is a matter of substance. The word "baptism" is used in the New Testament to describe the act of immersion in water, which is a symbol of the death and resurrection of Jesus Christ. THE JAMES EARL RAY case has been a hot topic in the news recently. The man who was convicted of murdering Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. has been found guilty of several other crimes, including the murder of a U.S. Senator. The case has been a major focus of the media, and it is likely to continue to be so for some time.

the company is planning to open a new office in the city of New York, and it is expected that the company will be able to attract a large number of new clients.

The other groups in the study (groups 2 and 3) were given a 10-min rest period after the 1st and 2nd work periods, and then performed the 3rd and 4th work periods. The 10-min rest period was used to allow the subjects to recover from the fatigue induced by the 1st and 2nd work periods.

The authors are indebted to the referees for their useful comments and suggestions.

Figure 1 is a 3D bar chart illustrating the distribution of the number of children per family (x-axis, 0 to 10) across different levels of education (y-axis, 0 to 10 years). The z-axis represents the percentage of the population. The chart shows that as the number of years of education increases, the percentage of the population with a large number of children (5 or more) decreases significantly. For example, at 0 years of education, the percentage of families with 5 or more children is around 10%, while at 10 years of education, it is near 0%.

RP may soon lose hold on BPO firms

By [Name], [City]

As the global economy continues to struggle, the outsourcing industry is facing a new challenge. Research predicts that the BPO market will grow significantly in the coming years, but the industry is still in its infancy. Many companies are still unsure of the benefits of outsourcing, and the industry is still facing a lot of skepticism. However, as the industry matures, it is expected to become a major force in the global economy.

RP urged to pursue $1.1 trillion bond float

By [Name], [City]

The U.S. Treasury Department is urging the Federal Reserve to pursue a $1.1 trillion bond float. The Treasury is concerned that the Fed's current policy of keeping interest rates low will lead to inflation. By increasing the money supply, the Fed is expected to raise interest rates, which will lead to higher inflation. The Treasury is urging the Fed to pursue a bond float to help stabilize the economy.
